Copyright Transfer Agreement

Under U.S. copyright law the transfer of copyright from the author should be explicitly stated in writing to enable the publisher to publish and disseminate the author's work to the fullest extent. The following agreement must be signed and returned to the editorial office of the journal before we can publish your manuscript. Please note that if the manuscript was prepared as a work made for hire, this agreement must be signed by the employer, as author.

The undersigned author has submitted a manuscript entitled_____

_____ for publication in the JOURNAL OF RHEOLOGY®.

- A. The author transfers to The Society of Rheology, Inc. the exclusive rights comprised in the copyright of the article, if the article is accepted for publication. The Society of Rheology grants to the Author(s) a nonexclusive license to do the following:
1. All proprietary rights, other than copyright, such as patent rights.
  2. The right to make copies of all or part of the work for the author's use in classroom teaching.
  3. The right to use, after publication, all or part of this material in a book by the author.
  4. The right to make copies of the work for the internal distribution within the institution which employs the author.
  5. The right to use figures and tables from the work, and up to 250 words of text, for any purpose.
  6. The right to make oral presentation of the material in any forum.

In the case of a work prepared under U.S. Government contract, the U.S. Government may reproduce, royalty-free, all or portions of the article and may authorize others to do so, for official U.S. Government purposes only, if the contract so requires.

The author agrees that all copies made under any of the above conditions will include notice of the copyright of the publisher.

- B. The author warrants that the manuscript is the author's original work. If the work was prepared jointly the author agrees to inform co-authors of the terms of this agreement. It is submitted only to this journal, and has not been published before. (If excerpts from copyrighted works are included, the author will obtain written permission from the copyright owners and show credit to the sources in the manuscript.) The author also warrants that the article contains no libelous or unlawful statements, and does not infringe on the rights of others.
